

Dear Kgethi,

It with a great sense of distress that I learned of the losses sustained to the University of Cape Town and the destruction of prized collections and historic documents archived at the Jagger Library Reading Room as a result of the Table Mountain fire. I write to convey a sincere message of support to you and your resilient community of students, faculty, staff, and friends of UCT as you pull together to rebuild and restore the distinctly vibrant intellectual life of the university.

In solidarity,
Peter Salovey
