UCT upholds commitment to support students in financial need

Potential students have less than a month to apply for the 2015 undergraduate intake at the University of Cape Town. Those interested in UCT's financial support system have until 31 October 2014 to submit this additional application.

Every year UCT receives over 27,000 applications for approximately 4,200 spaces for new first-year students. It is therefore important to apply in time for the 2015 intake.

The university maintains its commitment to provide financial support to those who qualify for funding based on need. By distributing over R440 million of financial support a year together with donors and corporate and government partners, UCT assists financially disadvantaged students across South Africa. The university's financial support policies also make special concessions for students with siblings at UCT.

Potential students can download UCT's financial support application form at <http://www.uct.ac.za/apply/funding/undergraduate/financial/> or telephone 021 650 5094.

Applicants should keep in mind that:

- Financial support applications for 2015 close on 31 October 2014. Late applications will not be accepted.
- Applicants must be either citizens or permanent residents of South Africa.
- Applicants must hold no other tertiary qualification, except when they are applying for financial support to study a postgraduate certificate in education or a postgraduate diploma in music.
- Applicants must also be applying for an approved full-time undergraduate degree at UCT.
