Art and artists under the spotlight at UCT Summer School

The University of Cape Town's Summer School is justly famous for its charismatically presented art courses, and next month's offerings will keep up the tradition.

- The mystic and the mathematician: In this course, Dr Rosalind Malandrinos contrasts the distinctive styles of Italian Renaissance painters Piero della Francesca and Leonardo da Vinci. This course will run from Monday, 25 to Wednesday, 27 January 2016 at 09h15.
- How artists see: Perennial favourite Professor Ian Aaronson discusses the inner forces that compelled Claude Monet, Pablo Picasso, Salvador Dali, Wassily Kandinsky, Mark Rothko, Otto Dix and George Grosz. This course will run from Monday, 25 to Friday, 29 January 2016 at 11h15.
- Prague: city of hundred spires: The much-loved Summer School presenter, Edward Saunders, will take participants on a tour of major developments in Prague's history from its origins in the ninth century, considering representative examples of works from successive artistic periods. This course will run from 15h00 to 17h00 on Saturday, 23 January 2016.
- Irma Stern and Lippy Lipshitz: revisiting race, economics and law in South African art history: This course will be presented by independent researcher Claudia Braude from Monday, 18 to Wednesday, 20 January 2016 at 19h30.
