UCT events and interview opportunities

- Event series: #DelftLivesMatter – For the past year, the Sustainable Livelihoods Foundation (SLF) has been working with a group of young people, community activists and members of the Neighbourhood Watch from Delft in Cape Town to help them tell their own stories about their daily lives and the problems they face. SLF, in partnership with UCT’s Safety and Violence Initiative and Participate, is hosting three events which will look into how the problems of violence, corruption, gangsterism, exclusion and a lack of accountability can be changed.

Nurture Youth’s Lives for Positive Futures – Young people share creative ideas on what kind of support the youth need for positive futures. Premier of film, 'Being young in Delft' followed by a panel discussion.

Partnerships for Safer Cities – Community leaders explore the effects of corruption and violence through their stories, and offer their ideas for a safer, more inclusive city.

Transforming the Police – South Africa needs policing with integrity. People living in Delft propose new partnerships to get there. Premier of film, 'Gangsters in Uniform' followed by a panel discussion.
